—New Fire Limits

The regular session of the city council Tuesday night was marked by one of the busiest sessions on record, during which time the milk ordinance was passed, another ordinance defining new fire limits was placed on first reading, plans made for the passage of a bus ordinance, and a shake-up in the police department was threatened by Mayor Thomas.

The ordinance calling for the revised boundary lines on the fire limits was given the first reading, and the boundary lines as defined in the ordinance includes all territory south of the C. I. & W. railroad, to the east and south corporation line and the west boundary is north and south through the first alley between Morgan and Harrison to Third, and then over on Third to Morgan, and north to the railroad.

All persons owning property within these boundary lines will be considered as within the fire limits, which means that the standard building code must be used and followed in reducing fire hazards. All remodeling or new buildings must be fire-proof and no new roofs can be constructed unless fire-proof.

Chief of Police Blackburn requested the council for an additional man on the force, and this brought out a series of discussions, which resulted in Mayor Thomas serving notice on the councilmen to do something with the police force, within the next thirty days, "or I will see to it, that something is done."

The conversations drifted along the lines of neglect of duty, loafing on the job and lax enforcement of laws, with an inkling in their talk that even some of the officers have violated laws themselves while on duty.

Mayor Thomas stated that he wanted the councilmen to work out

M'GRAY RECOUNTS HIS FARM LOSSES

Every Year Since 1920, He Has Gone
Deeper in Debt Due to Operating
Losses, Testimony Shows

PUTS TOTAL AT $740,000

Ex-Governor J. P. Goodrich And I.
Newt Brown Witnesses Before
Marian County Grand Jury

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 21—Governor Warren T. McCray suffered losses of nearly $740,000 in the operation of his agricultural interests during the last three and one-half years, according to his testimony today at the bankruptcy hearing before Harry C. Sheridan, referee in bankruptcy.

Every year since the beginning of 1920, he went deeper in debt as his "operating losses" increased, his testimony revealed.

These losses, which he referred to as "debtor balances", were $76,711 in 1920; $260,070 in 1921; $192,486 in 1922 and $209,272 from January first to August 15, 1923.

McCray gave his total indebtedness as $3,144,118. He explained how the indebtedness was incurred through his different financial transactions. He gave $69,000 as the cost of his campaign for governor.

Relative amounts of time spent and money invested by Governor McCray in farming and in pure bred cattle business assumed great importance in the bankruptcy hearing.

Sheridan made a number of attempts to get McCray in his testimony to differentiate between the two branches of his business.

Invariably the governor's answer was that it was impossible to separate the two activities as they were too closely linked together. He admitted, however, that a great part of his time and money had been given

COUNCIL PASSES MILK ORDINANCE

Necessary For Anyone Owning One
or More Cows From Which Milk
is Sold to Get Permit

METHOD TO GET A LICENSE

Dairyman Must File Sworn Statement, Showing His Herd is Free
From Disease Infection

An ordinance licensing and regulating the sale of milk and cream within the city of Rushville, was passed Tuesday night at the regular session of the city council, with the view in mind of protecting the health of the city from any diseases that might be contained in the milk.

The council several weeks ago discussed the proposed plan of licensing the milk venders, and compelling them to have their herd tested annually, and the councilmen at that time ordered the committee to draft an ordinance to be presented at the meeting last night.

The rules were suspended following the first reading of the new ordinance and the bill was given second and third reading and final passage, and becomes a law as soon as it has been published for three weeks. Dairyman are given time to have their cows examined by a veterinarian.

The ordinance, will make it necessary for anyone having one or more cows from which milk is sold in the city, to pay one dollar a year license for the permit to sell milk, and also 25 cents for any additional cow that might be added to the herd. The license fee of $1.00 entitles the person to sell and deliver milk within the city for one year, regardless of the size of the herd.

In order to first obtain a license, the dairyman must present a sworn statement to the city clerk in which the examining veterinarian state that the cow of a certain name and description is free from infection.

The books of the city clerk will show the name, number and description of each cow examined, and these cows must be examined annually for a permit.

The ordinance, No. 370, is given the following title introduction. "An ordinance requiring all persons, firms and corporations selling milk and

Mr. Farthing gave an interesting talk on what he saw in the conduct, management and results of the school work in Maryland, following his trip to that state a few weeks ago.

Old Board of Directors of Arlington Telephone Company Ousted When Employees Walk Out

SECOND GROUP THEN QUILTS

Internal Discord Believed to Have Been Solved When New Board
Was Elected Tuesday

The Arlington telephone company is emerging from serious discord that threatened to tie up the service of the company, resulting in the election of a new board of directors, Tuesday afternoon, which is believed to solve the problem, and the company now is attempting to hire operators for the office.

The board of directors last week intimated in some manner, it is said, that new operators were going to be employed, and immediately the old operators walked out, not waiting to receive notice of their dismissal.

New operators were pressed into service, and when the annual election of a board of directors took place yesterday, the stockholders ousted all of the former members and officers, excepting one, Joe McCoy.

Then the operators that had been hired a few days before, walked out. The new board elected yesterday is composed of the following stockholders: Charles Rucker, Lon Abernathy, Dr. A. G. Shauck, Perry Collins, Willard Tribbey, R. Y. Jordan, Continued on Page Three

JUDGE TAGUE'S DOG STOLEN

ville Sheriff is Notified

The judge offers a reward of $25 for information that will lead to its recovery. Persons in Brookville saw a Ford machine stop late Sunday afternoon, and a man got out and put the dog in the back seat. The machine then headed toward Rushville, according to the judge.

EDUCATION Costing More Than Ever Before, But Why Should It Not!

By BIRNEY D. FARTHING
(County Supt. of Schools)

A great deal is heard in this day and age about the rising cost of education. It seems that some people are unduly alarmed over the fact that education is costing more today than it did a few years ago. Suppose it does—aren't there more children in this country now than in former years? Aren't there more children to attend school? Haven't the Schools become better in every way? Isn't it true that the schools are costing more because the value of the dollar has depreciated? As a matter of fact, a school costing twice as much per pupil now as in 1912 and 1913 is a reality costing no more today (according to the way other things have advanced in proportion) than it did at that time. If the data collected is correct—the cost of education per pupil in average daily attendance increased only 67.5 percent from 1913 to 1922.

What about the cost of living for the same period? According to statistics, the cost of living increased about a 100 percent during this same lapse of time. Is a fair-minded person then to assume that when the cost of living so increased, the cost of education must remain the same as in 1913? Isn't it true that when living costs increase—teachers must of necessity be paid larger salaries to meet the issues of the day? How about fuel? No need to say that it is costing more all the time. To erect buildings cost more, as does the repair of school buildings. What's the answer?

Of course the schools are costing more. Why shouldn't they? Isn't it true that other city, county and State governmental departments are costing more? Let's consider this educational problem in a fair and square way, and quit this foolish wrangling about the everlasting increased cost of education. The crying need of the hour is for the parents, teachers and all concerned to get together and work out in a sane and satisfactory way a solution for this ever increasing difficult problem. It is up to all of us. What are we going to do with the Proposition?

The only Education Week meetings scheduled for Tuesday night were held at Glenwood and Homer, but a number will be held tonight in various communities throughout the county.

A special program has been arranged for the meeting tonight in addition to the address by John H. Kiplinger who, by reason of several years spent in Europe, has had an opportunity to observe their school systems and see the many advantages which American school children enjoy over their European neighbors.

The meeting will be held in the assembly room of the high school. This will be followed by a vocal solo by Mrs. C. E. Walden and the address

DEFENDANT GIVEN VERDICT BY JURY

Finding For R. H. Parker In Farm
Contract Case Brought by Marion
And Catherine Boes

HEADLEE CASE POSTPONED

Trial of Gowdy Man Will Not Be Held Thursday Due to Motion For a Change of Judge

The case on a farm contract, for possession and $500 damages, was ended in court this afternoon shortly before three o'clock, when the jury which heard the case rendered a verdict in favor of the defendant, and the plaintiffs, Marion Boes and Catherine Boes, lost their suit to Robert H. Parker, defendant.

The jury got the case at noon, and three hours were required for their decision.

The case of the state against Sylvia Headlee of Gowdy, charged with drawing a weapon, was scheduled for trial Thursday before a jury, but it was continued today, when the defendant filed a motion for a change of judge from Judge Sparks, and another jurist will be named for the case for a later date.

The next case that will require a jury is the case of the State against Floyd Bryant, charged with larceny, and which is set for Friday. The defendant is accused of stealing automobile tires from a garage owner at Carthage, and is out on bond, after pleading not guilty last June.

In court this morning, the evidence was heard in the case of Walter E. Smith against Joseph E. Hardin, et al., a suit on a note, and the defendants defaulted. The court rendered judgment for the plaintiff in the sum of $262.90 and costs.

The damage suit of the Smith-Jackson company against the City of Newcastle, has been sent to Rush county on a change of venue from Henry county.

J. Charles Caldwell has filed a complaint in court against Tully Caldwell, in which he seeks to have a guardian appointed, alleging that his brother is not capable of managing his own affairs, and is a spendthrift.

"I got so weak I couldn't go. I couldn't stand on my feet at all. I had to go to bed. I suffered a great deal. I was so nervous I felt I couldn't live. I tried medicines, and everything; had the best of attention, yet I wasn't able to get up. I lay for three months, not able to do anything.

"My husband is a bill poster and has circulars distributed. One day there came to be a Ladies' Birthday Almanac among his circulars. I read it, and told some of the family to get me a bottle of Cardui. . . .

The money obtained by the clerk in issuing annual licenses and making other changes on his records such as reports of examining cows added to the herd, is to be kept by the clerk as his share of the new duties created by the ordinance, which will necessitate an added book keeping system.

The ordinance is lengthy and is embodied in five sections, and will be published in legal form Thursday night, and for three consecutive weeks.

The fifth section of the ordinance carries the penalty for those failing to abide by the ordinance, and upon conviction a fine of not exceeding $25 nor less than $5 is to be imposed, and each day thereafter that any section is violated, shall contribute a separate offense.

Ex-governor James P. Goodrich and L. Newt Brown, secretary of the state board of agriculture, were principal witnesses before the Marion county grand jury investigating alleged irregularities in Governor McCray's financial dealings.

It was thought they were quizzed concerning the $155,000 loan in which the governor, the board of agriculture and the Kentland Discount and Deposit state bank, were involved and its connection with the pool raised to assist the governor, from which the loan was paid.

Ross H. Wallace, president of the Aetna Trust Company, which is trustee for the pool, was seen entering the jury room, as were J. Edward Morris, president of the West Washington Street bank and Eben H. Wolcott, state bank commissioner, who ordered an investigation of the Kentland bank.

A Police Shakeup

The threatened shakeup of the police force, which occupied the attention of the city council Tuesday night, might be avoided even yet if the police force were put on a business-like basis and run like any other city department or any private business, as friends of the city administration have suggested a number of times.

Seven weeks ago the police committee of the city council was instructed to install a police docket so that members of the police force could make a public record of all calls received and all calls answered. Under this method, the administrators of the city's business would have a complete check on the policemen and know how they spend their time.

Better still, a desk sergeant would solve the problem and put the police system on a metropolitan basis. Then, when a policeman was wanted, he could probably be obtained in a short time.

It has been demonstrated that the police and fire departments can not get along in peace and harmony and complete divorcement of the two seems absolutely essential. Natural jealousies between the two departments are bound to crop out, regardless of how carefully policemen and firemen try to avoid them.

The method now being used in conducting the police department is slipshod and unbusinesslike. It is practically impossible to get a policeman on an emergency call unless he "happens" to be at the fire department. This was demonstrated last Saturday night when a holdup occurred and a call at the fire department did little more than irritate the firemen because they were awakened.

There are many who have always felt that the present method of running the police force is inefficient and have sought to bring about a change without avail. There is no reason why the police force should not investigate accidents and make a

COOLIDGE URGES OBSERVANCE OF GOLDEN RULE DAY DEC. 2ndTHE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

October 26.

Near East Relief,
151 Fifth Avenue,
New York, N. Y.

Gentlemen:

It is with a good deal of satisfaction that I commend your proposal to observe an International Golden Rule Dinner Sunday, on the second of December, 1923. I feel sure that this suggestion will meet with very widespread approval and will bring more closely to mind the charitable requirements of those who are prosperous to those who are in adversity. It suggests not only a practical method for help, but the highest expression of sympathy by sharing for a time the privations of others.

Cordially yours,

Facsimile of President Coolidge's Letter Urging Observance
of Golden Rule Sunday

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE has written to the Near East Relief headquarters in New York commending the idea of International Golden Rule Day to be observed all over the world on Sunday, December 2nd, as a means of providing food for the orphans in the Near East and urging the widespread observance of the day, both as a practical method of help and as an expression of international goodwill.

The President's letter, a facsimile of which is reproduced above, said in part: "I feel sure that this suggestion will meet with very widespread approval and will bring more closely to mind the charitable requirements of those who are prosperous to those who are in adversity. It suggests not only a practical method of help, but the highest expression of sympathy by sharing for a time the privations of others."

report on every one. This is the custom with police forces of other cities.

No lack of something to do appears. It is the earnest hope of all friends of the city administration that Mayor Thomas' threat brings results.

The Milk Ordinance

The city council is to be congratulated for its forceful and effective action in passing the milk ordinance. It is doubtful if anything within the power of the councilmen could be done that would be a better safeguard against the spread of disease and that would eliminate the danger of infants being affected with infectious ailments.

On October 22, it was announced by the county agricultural agent, that four dairymen supplying milk in Rushville had accredited herds, which was assurance that milk from these herds was safe to feed to children. The herds belong to Robert Powell, W. S. Marshall, Oscar Newhouse and George and Harves. The last named herd has also been accredited by the state of Indiana in addition to the United States department of agriculture.

Milk is more liable to carry disease germs than any other form of food, because they thrive in it, and in view of the fact that milk is the chief food given to children, the protection of the supply is vital to the health of the community.

They Belong in Padded Cells
(Houston Post)

There are many nutty theorists in this country who seem to think that the law was not ordained to provide an escape for criminals.

Golden Rule Day will be observed simultaneously in fourteen different nations on December 2nd. On this day people are asked to forego their usual more or less elaborate Sunday dinner and eat instead a meal approximately the same as that served to the orphans in the care of the Near East Relief and contribute the difference in the cost of the two menus to the support of these orphans.

In this country the movement is sponsored by the Near East Relief and contributions will be made through it. Other countries will co-operate in the same way through their own national relief organizations.

Details as to the proper sort of food to serve on Golden Rule Day may be obtained by writing to the Near East Relief, 151 Fifth Avenue, New York City, or the nearest state office of the relief organization.

SERVES NOTICE ON THE COUNCIL

some plan that would make it possible for them to check up on the police.

"If you can't get them to work, we can fire them," the mayor declared, and continuing further, he stated that he had obtained enough evidence that would warrant several changes.

One councilman stated that complaints had reached him of drunks causing much disturbance in the business district, and that several fights have taken place in front of the police, who watched them fight.

Another councilman stated that there was one policeman who had been on duty. In the list of suggestions made by the mayor, he pointed out the necessity of the police having regular patrol beats, especially in the residence section, with some means of checking up to find out what they were doing.

The city is lacking in not having a metropolitan police force, which would give the officers a desk sergeant, to keep check on them, and direct them in following out orders from the mayor and chief. The order of the mayor is to the effect that the councilmen must solve these questions, and give the city the police protection that it deserves, similar to the fire protection, which is highly satisfactory.

The council some months ago tabled an ordinance regulating and licensing busses within the city, and the ordinance will be revived and placed on first reading at the next session.

The councilmen had previously decided to let the matter go by, but according to their discussions last night it seems that the busses have again come into the limelight on account of recklessness and the attitude displayed by the drivers in not observing ordinances and requests by the administration.

street from Water, north to Seventh street, will be received on December 18, and in this connection bids also will be received for the pavement of Water street, from Main to Morgan.

The last improvement was approved and passed five years ago, under the administration of the late Mayor A. B. Drvin, but no bids were ever received for the work, and the council believes that at this time the project can be put through by the same contractor for the Morgan street job, as the two projects link each other.

The police will be ordered to enforce the curfew ordinance, compelling school children to be off the streets by eight o'clock, and the police also will be asked to question boys under the full age of 21 years, concerning the purchase of cigarettes and tobacco. The mayor is anxious to enforce the state law on this subject, and dealers are warned to be on their guard, or else arrests will be made.

The sewer committee was asked to start the ball to rolling again in the Hodge's branch petition, which has met with rough sailing for two years and which has failed to get by in the circuit court on account of technicalities in legal advertising.

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)
New York, Nov. 21—Willie Hoppe, world's billiard champion off and on for seventeen years, is to defend his title in a play off match next month in Chicago against young Welker Cochran.

Hoppe probably will win because he is better fitted temperamentally to stand the nerve strain resulting from a month's intermission in the play. Cochran is flighty of nerves, like many youngsters. His youthful susceptibility to mental hazards probably caused him to miff the chance to win the recent championship tournament instead of finishing in a tie.

Cochran defeated Hoppe in one of the early matches of the tournament. The match was not finished until midnight and the youngster said he was so excited that he was unable to sleep that night. He had to play at noon the next day and was defeated by Hagenlacher, the German.

Recently Cochran opened a billiard parlor in Hollywood and he was so busy getting his business underway that he had no time to train or practice for the championship.

Between now and Dec. 16, when the play-off starts in Chicago with the champion, he probably will spend all his time in practice and thinking about Hoppe.

Which will do him no good.

While football is more or less of a timely subject, here's one for the book before it is closed.

King College, Bristol, Tenn.; enrollment 92; football coach, A. C. Adams, Maryland '10; squad 42; eligibility, strict.

Record: In 1922 won seven games and scored 498 without being scored upon.

In six games of this season, Bristol scored 432 points to six. Beat Bluefield 68-0; Tennessee Poly, 75-0; Elon 55-6; Lenoir, 86-0; East Tennessee Normal, 108-0; Milligan 40-0.

No big teams on the list, but it is claimed big teams won't take them.

Elton Sharpe, a 160-pound back, triple threat, fine kicker and great runner, is the big punch of the team and some judges who have seen him play say that he is one of the finest backs in the country.

Anotehr light that has never been able to shine from rather secluded surroundings is Stockton of the Gonzaga team.

Eastern critics who saw the West Virginia- Gonzaga game last year said that Stockton was one of the finest football players they had ever seen.

Surroundings have everything to do with the fame that can be won by a football player.

Chicago—Coach Staggs' varsity made the going hard for the Irish who used Wisconsin plays in a long scrimmage. The Maroons are in top conditions for Saturday's game.

Madison, Wis.—The Badgers are getting intensive drill on the forward pass attack, which critics have said is their chief weakness. Williams, Taft and Harris scored by gains during scrimmage but Coach Ryan is apparently convinced he must mix up the plunges with passing.

Ann Arbor, Mich.—Passing, running and kicking featured the activities of the Wolverines as Coach Yost whipped his squad in shape to meet the Gophers Saturday.

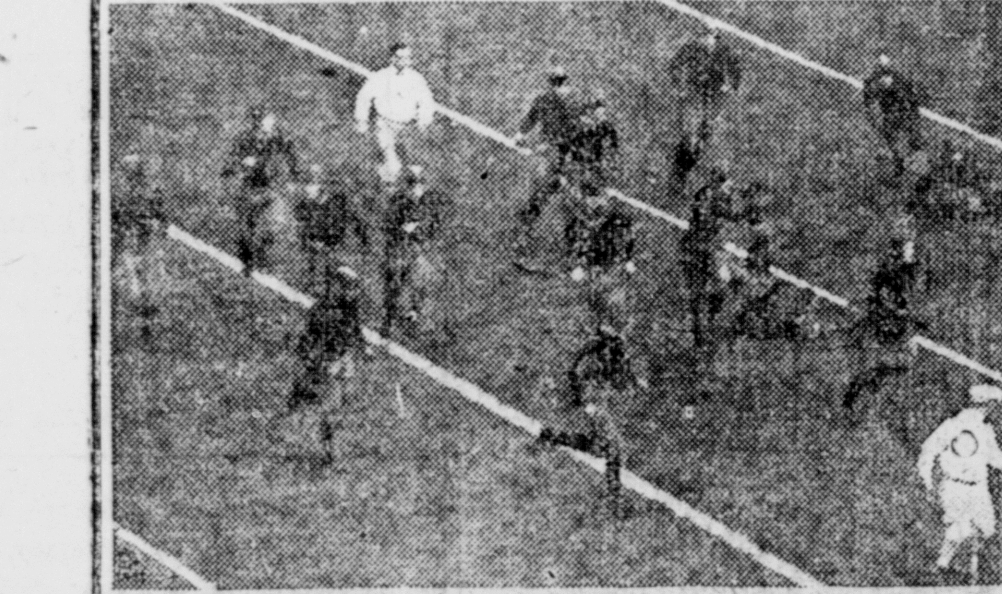

Lafayette, Ind.—Purdue's backfield will be unchanged when it meets Indiana Saturday. Signal drills, limbering up exercises and new plays constituted yesterday's drills behind closed gates.

Bloomington, Ind.—Strong defense on forward pass plays featured Indiana practice today as Coach Ingram prepared his squad to meet Purdue Saturday.

South Bend, Ind.—Coach Roekne put his men through scrimmage practice preparatory to meeting Carnegie Tech Saturday. Tech is credited with one of the strongest defenses the Irish will meet.

Was a Good Judge of Liquor

"Since a young man I had a liking for liquor and was considered a pretty good judge of it at one time, but constant drinking gave me stomach trouble which became chronic. My stomach would have been a valuable addition to a gas factory. Doctors did not seem to relieve me. One day my druggist got me to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and I am now as good as new." It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by druggists everywhere.

PARALYZED IN LOWER LIMBS

LE ROY WOLFE
Marion, Ind.

After All Other Methods Failed
Chiropractic Adjustments
Brought Life to Paralyzed Limbs

Expression of a thankful mother, she says: Our son, Le Roy Wolfe, aged six years, was paralyzed from the hip down, and could not walk or use his lower limbs.

His health was poor and the medical doctors did not give him any relief, so we tried J. M. Starr, chiropractor, who gave him chiropractic spinal adjustments.

We could see an improvement from the very first adjustment. He was completely restored to health and regained the use of his limbs, the paralytic condition having entirely left him.

We are very thankful for this health restoring science and are read chiropractic boosters. Signed: Mrs. Erna Wolfe, 1602 West First street, Marion, Ind.

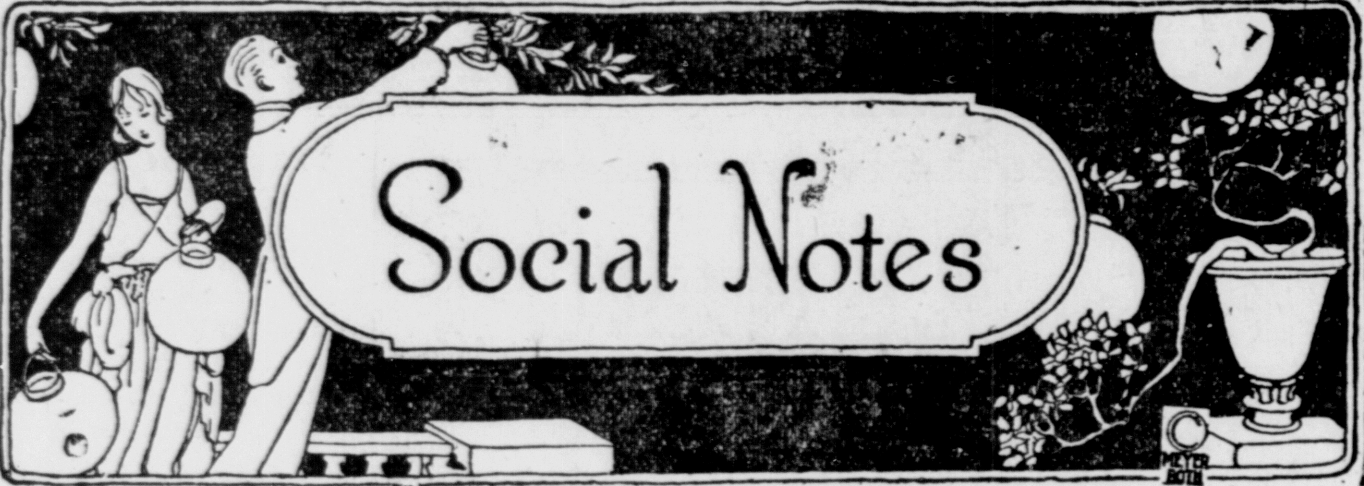

No condition is utterly hopeless, and Chiropractic has proved effective where many other methods have failed.

To be continued with answer to Chapter II.

(The third chapter of Red Riding Hood will appear on this page next Saturday.)

ANSWER TO CHAPTER I.

Many years ago a loving couple had a daughter who was highly esteemed by all and was dearly beloved by her grandmother, whose home was some distance away in the wood. The girl was called Little Red Riding Hood because she always wore a hood of that color.

for the late Mrs. Laura Carmichael was given as follows:

Devotional exercise, Mrs. Louis Neutzenhelzer; solo, "In The Garden," Miss Bernice Kelso; "Mrs. Carmichael in the Missionary Society," Miss Minnie Beale; "Reminiscence," Mrs. Louis Neutzenhelzer; "Memories of the Carmichael Family," Mrs. Mary Holmes; "Mrs. Carmichael in the Church," the Rev. Gibson Wilson; a reading "Thanatopsis," Mrs. J. N. Culp; closing prayer offered by the Rev. Mr. Wilson.

Guests of the society at this meeting were Mrs. Howard Carmichael, Mrs. R. W. Cox, of this city, and Mrs. Edward Norris of Belleville, Ka.

MRS. MARSHALL RAY DIES

Anderson Township Woman Expires At Robert Long Hospital

Mrs. Emma Ray, age 42 years, wife of Marshall Ray, living just east of Milroy, died this morning at two o'clock at the Robert L. Long Hospital in Indianapolis, where she had been taking treatment for the past seven weeks. The remains were brought to the family home this afternoon, where services will be conducted, probably Friday.

Besides the husband, she is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan, of near Milroy, and several brothers and sisters. The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Tom Sims, who finds a queer and humorist twist in much of the day's news, writes a column daily on the editorial page of the Daily Republican. If you miss a single paragraph, you miss a good laugh.

Both Good

Both straightline and bloused frocks are popular for the coming season and two simple models are shown here as examples. The straightline dress is the best example of the tubelike silhouette. The other dress made with an underwaist to which the skirt is attached, blouses evenly and gracefully all around.

MORE THAN 130 ARE KILLED

Terrific Fighting Reported in Rhineland From Cologne

Berlin, Nov. 21—Terrific fighting in the Rhineland in which more than 130 separatists were killed in the last week was reported in delayed dispatches today from Cologne.

Seventy were reported killed in one battle between separatists and citizens loyal to the German Reich near Aegidienberg.

Serious fighting was also reported in the Sieben Gebirg district.

The Psychology of a Lie.

Pip's Analysis in "Great Expectations": "It was much upon my mind that I ought to tell Joe the whole truth. Yet I did not, and for the reason that I mistrusted that if I did, he would think me worse than I was. The fear of losing Joe's confidence, and of thenceforth sitting in the chimney corner at night staring drearily at my forever lost companion and friend, tied up my tongue. . . . In a word, I was too cowardly to do what I knew to be right, as I had been too cowardly to avoid doing what I knew to be wrong."

JOINT-EASE

For Stiff, Swollen Joints

RHEUMATIC OR OTHERWISE

Says: "When Joint-Ease Gets in—Joint Agony Gets Out."

It was a high-class pharmacist who saw prescription after prescription fail to help hundreds of his customers to get rid of rheumatic swellings and stiff inflamed joints.

And it was this same man who asserted that a remedy could and would be compounded that would make creaky, swollen, tormented joints work with just as much smoothness as they ever did.

Now this prescription, rightly named Joint-Ease, after being tested successfully on many obstinate cases, is offered through progressive pharmacists to the millions of people who suffer from ailing joints that need limbering up.

Swollen, twingy, inflamed, stiff, paintormented joints are usually caused by rheumatism, but whatever the cause Joint-Ease soaks right in, through skin and flesh and gets right to and corrects the trouble at its source.

Remember Joint-Ease is for ailments of the joints, whether in ankle, knee, hip, elbow, shoulder, spine or finger, and when you rub it on, you may expect speedy and gratifying results.

It is now on sale at druggists everywhere for 60 cents a tube.

Conquering Time

THE WORTH of a man is measured by his usefulness.

When many men are grouped to perform a common task for the common good they become an institution.

The same measuring rod applies to the institution as to the individual.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is an institution—a big institution.

It is big in size because it renders a big service. Perhaps there is no phase of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) service which is more significant or more far-reaching in its benefits to man than the means it furnishes for the conservation of time.

It enables men to do the work of the world easier and in fewer hours.

It speeds up every phase of industry.

The manufacturer can produce more merchandise because Standard Oil products enable him to run his machinery at higher speed.

The farmer can cultivate more land and raise greater crops because Standard Oil products enable him to use power-driven farm machinery. The doctor can see more patients because Standard Oil products have enabled him to substitute the automobile for the horse.

The salesman can display his wares to twice as many buyers by utilizing Standard Oil products and the automobile.

Standard Oil Company (Indiana) service lengthens man's three score and ten by increasing his capacity for accomplishment.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is proud of the part it has taken in furnishing the means for men to annihilate time and distance through controlled and directed effort.

It is proud of the fact that it has been able to benefit so many industries by taking so many products, varied and useful, from the single base—crude petroleum.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is proud of the leadership it has earned in the petroleum industry.

It is proud of its organization of 27,000 men and women through whose loyal, earnest efforts it is able to render such a superior service as to have earned the respect and confidence of the thirty million people of the Middle West.

"If Winter Comes," The Castle

The success of nearly every dramatic masterpiece is calculated by the performance of the star, the character around which the entire story revolves, the one to whom all things happen. Yet, if it were not for the capable support of a cast made up of "bits" many of the greatest dramas known to the art would not occupy their reverent position. In the screen version of "If Winter Comes," produced by William Fox, Percy Marmont plays that central character—Mark Sabre—and play it in a manner that will command the respect of every critic worthy of the title. But his sterling performance should not detract from the noteworthy work of lesser members of the cast. One of these is Leslie King, as "Humpo" the lawyer, who tries to fasten the crime of murder upon Sabre.

King, as the crafty, surly hunchback, trying by every means to enmesh the innocent Sabre in an invidious circumstantial evidence, reminds one of nothing so much as a leopard, toying around his prey, tearing his heart out bit by bit. His cunning insinuations, his rapier-like thrusts, his simpering expression of pleasure at a point illy gained, mould out a character that is one of the fine accomplishments of the motion picture "If Winter Comes," which will be shown at the Castle Theatre today and Thursday.

Firm, Plump, Flesh!

MANY are the eyes that are turned to gaze with keen admiration on the well developed, healthy girl no matter where she may be—on the rapidly moving thoroughfare or gliding gracefully over the dance floor.

All eyes turn because we all appreciate the girl with the figure so firm and plump—the girl with radiantly red cheeks, cheeks that carry a touch of roses from nature's own garden—the girl with the sparkling eyes, keen and sharp—the girl with buoyancy and the swing of youth. Not necessarily an out-of-doors girl. Just a girl with ever increasing blood cells. Just a girl filled with the vim and vigor of youth. S. S. S., since 1826, has stood for increased blood cells. S. S. S. means restored strength—rekindled vitality—added energy. Take S. S. S. and watch the bloom of youth return to your cheeks. Watch that flabby, ill nourished flesh fade away before flesh that is firm and plump. Red blood cells will do it and S. S. S. will build them. It contains only pure vegetable ingredients. S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores. The large size bottle is more economical.

the type of feature comedies that Harold Lloyd makes, they are "rarer than rare."

The happy thought that led to the making of the spectacular comedian's latest and longest feature, "Safety Last," a seven-reel Pathe comedy, came like a flash out of a sky.

One day, about a year ago, Harold Lloyd and his producer, Hal Roach, were talking on a downtown street in Los Angeles. It so happened that at the Roslyn Hotel that day, "Bill Strother known the world over as the "human-fly," was pitting his skill against intricacies of the Roslyn's granite walls.

Immediately the idea hit Harold that it might be a good plan to make a thrill picture, and to fill it with just such daring and hilarious situations as he made in "Never Weaken" and "High and Dizzy," outstanding successes in Lloyd's early achievements.

The idea was not long in crystallization stage, for it was put into concrete form by Hal Roach, Sam Taylor, Tim Whalen and Harley M. Walker—the last three on the Lloyd scenario staff—and the filming began after the completion of "Dr. Jack." Strother, himself, was engaged to play the part of Lloyd's pal, and to, incidentally, climb one building for the benefit of the camera.

"Safety Last" will be seen for the last time tonight at the Princess Theatre, and it is declared to be filled to the brim with thrills. The funny situations are there in abundance, and with Mildred Davis, Harold also demonstrates that he can take his place with the foremost Romeos of the screen.

"When The Desert Calls."

One of the strangest cases of mistaken identity, from which most disastrous consequences arise, will be seen in "When The Desert Calls," a Pyramid Picture which comes to the Mystic theatre today. It is a Ray C. Smallwood production featuring Frazier, J. Barney Sherry, Huntley Gordon and Sheldon Lewis in the cast.

The author is Donald McGibeny, and his story is a gripping one. It concerns a young wife and her husband, Americans, who live near the Sahara where he is cashier in a bank. A stranger appears in the city—a derelict, a drunkard who strikingly resembles the cashier. At the same time comes an old enemy, a man whose pursuit of the wife has not ended with her marriage.

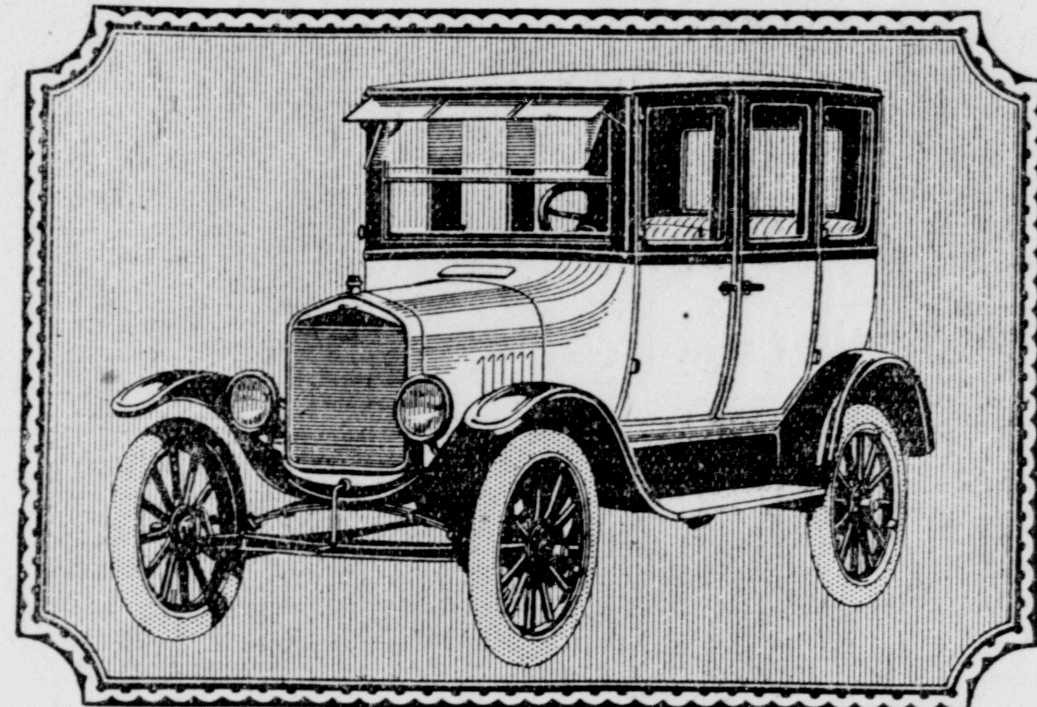

Desiring to ruin the husband, that the wife may be helpless, the enemy forces the derelict to participate in a diabolical scheme to bring this about. Because of the likeness between the two men, he forges a check and compels the derelict to present it at the bank where he is, of course, mistaken for the cashier. Nor does the confusion of identities end there. The forger is later detected, the innocent man is disgraced, and finally, when the derelict realizes the extent of his wrongdoing, he kills himself.

From this point the story gallops toward a sensational finish.

The lasting lustre of the exterior finish is equalled in richness by the

—New Fire Limits

The regular session of the city council Tuesday night was marked by one of the busiest sessions on record, during which time the milk ordinance was passed, another ordinance defining new fire limits was placed on first reading, plans made for the passage of a bus ordinance, and a shake-up in the police department was threatened by Mayor Thomas.

The ordinance calling for the revised boundary lines on the fire limits was given the first reading, and the boundary lines as defined in the ordinance includes all territory south of the C. I. & W. railroad, to the east and south corporation line and the west boundary is north and south through the first alley between Morgan and Harrison to Third, and then over on Third to Morgan, and north to the railroad.

All persons owning property within these boundary lines will be considered as within the fire limits, which means that the standard building code must be used and followed in reducing fire hazards. All remodeling or new buildings must be fire-proof and no new roofs can be constructed unless fire-proof.

Chief of Police Blackburn requested the council for an additional man on the force, and this brought out a series of discussions, which resulted in Mayor Thomas serving notice on the councilmen to do something with the police force, within the next thirty days, "or I will see to it, that something is done."

The conversations drifted along the lines of neglect of duty, loafing on the job and lax enforcement of laws, with an inkling in their talk that even some of the officers have violated laws themselves while on duty.

Mayor Thomas stated that he wanted the councilmen to work out

M'CRAY RECOUNTS HIS FARM LOSSES

Every Year Since 1920, He Has Gone
Deeper in Debt Due to Operating
Losses, Testimony Shows

PUTS TOTAL AT $740,000

Ex-Governor J. P. Goodrich And I.
Newt Brown Witnesses Before
Marion County Grand Jury

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 21—Governor Warren T. McCray suffered losses of nearly $740,000 in the operation of his agricultural interests during the last three and one-half years, according to his testimony today at the bankruptcy hearing before Harry C. Sheridan, referee in bankruptcy.

Every year since the beginning of 1920, he went deeper in debt as his "operating losses" increased, his testimony revealed.

These losses, which he referred to as "debtor balances", were $70,711 in 1920; $260,070 in 1921; $192,486 in 1922 and $209,272 from January first to August 15, 1923.

McCray gave his total indebtedness as $3,144,118. He explained how the indebtedness was incurred through his different financial transactions. He gave $69,000 as the cost of his campaign for governor.

Relative amounts of time spent and money invested by Governor Mc-Cray in farming and in pure bred cattle business assumed great importance in the bankruptcy hearing.

Sheridan made a number of attempts to get McCray in his testimony to differentiate between the two branches of his business.

Invariably the governor's answer was that it was impossible to separate the two activities as they were too closely linked together. He admitted, however, that a great part of his time and money had been given

COUNCIL PASSES MILK ORDINANCE

Necessary For Anyone Owning One
or More Cows From Which Milk
is Sold to Get Permit

METHOD TO GET A LICENSE

Dairymen Must File Sworn Statement, Showing His Herd is Free
From Disease Infection

An ordinance licensing and regulating the sale of milk and cream within the city of Rushville, was passed Tuesday night at the regular session of the city council, with the view in mind of protecting the health of the city from any diseases that might be contained in the milk.

The council several weeks ago discussed the proposed plan of licensing the milk venders, and compelling them to have their herd tested annually, and the councilmen at that time ordered the committee to draft an ordinance to be presented at the meeting last night.

The rules were suspended following the first reading of the new ordinance and the bill was given second and third reading and final passage, and becomes a law as soon as it has been published for three weeks. Dairymen are given time to have their cows examined by a veterinarian.

The ordinance, will make it necessary for anyone having one or more cows from which milk is sold in the city, to pay one dollar a year license for the permit to sell milk, and also 25 cents for any additional cow that might be added to the herd. The license fee of $1.00 entitles the person to sell and deliver milk within the city for one year, regardless of the size of the herd.

In order to first obtain a license, the dairymen must present a sworn statement to the city clerk in which the examining veterinarian state that the cow of a certain name and description is free from infection.

The books of the city clerk will show the name, number and description of each cow examined, and these cows must be examined annually for a permit.

The ordinance, No. 370, is given the following title introduction. "An ordinance requiring all persons, firms and corporations selling milk and cream to obtain a license from the city of Rushville, Indiana."

The Arlington telephone company

JUDGE TAGUE'S DOG STOLEN

Thief Seen Coming Towards Rush-
ville Sheriff is Notified

Sheriff S. L. Hunt today received a communication from Judge Cecil C.
Tague of Brookville that his valuable pointer dog had been stolen late Sunday, and a man in a Ford machine was seen headed toward Rushville.

The dog answers to the name of Jack, is 9 years old and all white, except a spot on the left side. The dog was a valuable one, and was registered. The judge offers a reward of $25 for information that will lead to its recovery. Persons in Brookville saw a Ford machine stop late Sunday afternoon, and a man got out and put the dog in the back seat. The machine then headed toward Rushville, according to the judge.

EDUCATION Costing More Than Ever Before, But Why Should It Not?

By BIRNEY D. FARTHING
(County Supt. of Schools)

A great deal is heard in this day and age about the rising cost of education. It seems that some people are unduly alarmed over the fact that education is costing more today than it did a few years ago. Suppose it does—aren't there more children in this country now than in former years? Aren't there more children to attend school? Haven't the Schools become better in every way? Isn't it true that the schools are costing more because the value of the dollar has depreciated. As a matter of fact, a school costing twice as much per pupil now as in 1912 and 1913 is in reality costing no more today (according to the way other things have advanced in proportion) than it did at that time. If the data collected is correct—the cost of education per pupil in average daily attendance increased only 67.5 percent from 1913 to 1922.

What about the cost of living for the same period? According to statistics, the cost of living increased about a 100 percent during this same lapse of time. Is a fair-minded person then to assume that when the cost of living so increased, the cost of education must remain the same as in 1913? Isn't it true that when living costs increase—teachers must of necessity be paid larger salaries to meet the issues of the day? How about fuel? No need to say that it is costing more all the time. To erect buildings cost more, as does the repair of school buildings. What's the answer?

Of course the schools are costing more. Why shouldn't they? Isn't it true that other city, county and State governmental departments are costing more? Let's consider this educational problem in a fair and square way, and quit this foolish wrangling about the everlasting increased cost of education. The crying need of the hour is for the parents, teachers and all concerned to get together and work out in a sane and satisfactory way a solution for this ever increasing difficult problem. It is up to all of us. What are we going to do with the Proposition?

A special program has been ar-class, to be organized and directed by Albert Cotton, director of phys-

DEFENDANT GIVEN VERDICT BY JURY

Finding For R. H. Parker In Farm
Contract Case Brought by Marion
And Catherine Boes

HEADLEE CASE POSTPONED

Trial of Gowdy Man Will Not Be Held Thursday Due to Motion For a Change of Judge

The case on a farm contract, for possession and $500 damages, was ended in court this afternoon shortly before three o'clock, when the jury which heard the case rendered a verdict in favor of the defendant, and the plaintiffs, Marion Boes and Catherine Boes, lost their suit to Robert H. Parker, defendant.

The jury got the case at noon, and three hours were required for their decision.

The case of the state against Sylvia Headlee of Gowdy, charged with drawing a weapon, was scheduled for trial Thursday before a jury, but it was continued today, when the defendant filed a motion for a change of judge from Judge Sparks, and another jurist will be named for the case for a later date.

The next case that will require a jury is the case of the State against Floyd Bryant, charged with larceny, and which is set for Friday.
The defendant is accused of stealing automobile tires from a garage owner at Carthage, and is out on bond, after pleading not guilty last June.

In court this morning, the evidence was heard in the case of Walter E.
Smith against Joseph E. Hardin, et al., a suit on a note, and the defendants defaulted. The court rendered judgment for the plaintiff in the sum of $262.90 and costs.

The damage suit of the Smith-Jackson company against the City of Newcastle, has been sent to Rush county on a change of venue from Henry county.

J. Charles Caldwell has filed a complaint in court against Tully Caldwell, in which he seeks to have a guardian appointed, alleging that his brother is not capable of managing his own affairs, and is a spendthrift.

DO YOU WONDER?

Ask This Lady, "That I'm a Believer in Cardui?"—Had Been So Weak She Had to Go to Bed.

Owatonna, Minn.—Mrs. E. E. Kuntz, formerly of Illinois, residing here, says: "We moved to this state eleven years ago, and I had good health for a long while; and then some year or so ago I had a bad sick spell."

"I got so weak I couldn't go. I couldn't stand on my feet all day. I had to go to bed. I suffered a great deal. I was so nervous I felt I couldn't live. I tried medicines, and everything; had the best of attention, yet I wasn't able to get up. I lay for three months, not able to do anything."

"My husband is a bill poster and has circulars distributed. One day these circulars came to be a Ladies' Birthday Almanac among his circulars. I read it, and told some of the family to get me a bottle of Cardui."

"I quit all other medicines and took it (Cardui) faithfully, and two weeks from the time I began to take Cardui I was out of bed—better than for months."

"I kept it up and continued to improve until I was a well woman."

"Do you wonder that I am a believer in Cardui? I certainly am. And I am sure there is no better tonic made for women than Cardui."

The money obtained by the clerk in issuing annual licenses and making other changes on his records such as reports of examining cows added to the herd, is to be kept by the clerk as his share of the new duties created by the ordinance, which will necessitate an added book keeping system. The ordinance is lengthy and is embodied in five sections, and will be published in legal form Thursday night, and for three consecutive weeks.

The fifth section of the ordinance carries the penalty for those failing to abide by the ordinance, and upon conviction a fine of not exceeding $25 nor less than $5 is to be imposed, and each day thereafter that any section is violated, shall contribute a separate offense.

It was thought they were quizzed concerning the $155,000 loan in which the governor, the board of agriculture and the Kentland Discount and Deposit state bank, were involved and its connection with the pool raised to assist the governor, from which the loan was paid.

BE IN EARNEST:—Whatever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might.—Ecclesiastes 9: 10.A Police Shakeup

The threatened shakeup of the police force, which occupied the attention of the city council Tuesday night, might be delayed even yet if the police force were put on a business-like basis and run like any other city department or any private business, as friends of the city administration have suggested a number of times.

Seven weeks ago the police committee of the city council was instructed to install a police docket so that members of the police force could make a public record of all calls received and all calls answered. Under this method, the administrators of the city's business would have a complete check on the policemen and know how they spend their time.

Better still, a desk sergeant would solve the problem and put the police system on a metropolitan basis. Then, when a policeman was wanted, he could probably be obtained in a short time.

It has been demonstrated that the police and fire departments can not get along in peace and harmony and complete divorce of the two seems absolutely essential. Natural jealousies between the two departments are bound to crop out, regardless of how carefully policemen and firemen try to avoid them.

The method now being used in conducting the police department is slipshod and unbusinesslike. It is practically impossible to get a policeman on an emergency call unless he happens to be at the fire department. This was demonstrated last Saturday night when a holdup occurred and a call at the fire department did little more than irritate the firemen because they were awakened.

There are many who have always felt that the present method of running the police force is inefficient and have sought to bring about a change without avail. There is no reason why the police force should not investigate accidents and make a

WASHINGTON

October 21.

Dear East Relief,
151 Fifth Avenue,
New York, N. Y.

Gentlemen:

It is with a good deal of satisfaction that I commend your proposal to observe an International Golden Rule Day Sunday, on the second of December, 1923. I feel sure that this suggestion will meet with very widespread approval and will bring more closely to mind the charitable requirements of those who are prosperous to those who are in adversity. It suggests not only a practical method for help, but the highest expression of sympathy by sharing for a time the privations of others.

Cordially yours,

Facsimile of President Coolidge's Letter Urging Observance
of Golden Rule Sunday

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE has written to the Near East Relief headquarters in New York commending the idea of International Golden Rule Day to be observed all over the world on Sunday, December 2nd, as a means of providing food for the orphans in the Near East and urging the widespread observance of the day, both as a practical method of help and as an expression of international goodwill.

The President's letter, a facsimile of which is reproduced above, said in part: "I feel sure that this suggestion will meet with very widespread approval and will bring more closely to mind the charitable requirements of those who are prosperous to those who are in adversity. It suggests not only a practical method of help, but the highest expression of sympathy, by sharing for a time the privations of others."

report on every one. This is the custom with police forces of other cities.

No lack of something to do appears. It is the earnest hope of all friends of the city administration that Mayor Thomas' threat brings results.

The Milk Ordinance

The city council is to be congratulated for its forceful and effective action in passing the milk ordinance. It is doubtful if anything within the power of the councilmen could be done that would be a better safeguard against the spread of disease and that would eliminate the danger of infants being affected with infectious ailments.

On October 22, it was announced by the county agricultural agent, that four dairymen supplying milk in Rushville had accredited herds, which was assurance that milk from these herds was safe to feed to children. The herds belong to Robert Powell, W. S. Marshall, Oscar Newhouse and George and Harves. The last named herd has also been accredited by the state of Indiana in addition to the United States department of agriculture.

Milk is more liable to carry disease germs than any other form of food, because they thrive in it, and in view of the fact that milk is the chief food given to children, the protection of the supply is vital to the health of the community.

There are many nutty theorists in this country who seem to think that the law was not ordained to provide an escape for criminals.

Golden Rule Day will be observed simultaneously in fourteen different nations on December 2nd. On this day people are asked to forego their usual more or less elaborate Sunday dinner and eat instead a meal approximately the same as that served to the orphans in the care of the Near East Relief and contribute the difference in the cost of the two menus to the support of these orphans.

In this country the movement is sponsored by the Near East Relief and contributions will be made through it. Other countries will co-operate in the same way through their own national relief organizations.

Details as to the proper sort of food to serve on Golden Rule Day may be obtained by writing to the Near East Relief, 151 Fifth Avenue, New York City, or the nearest state office of the relief organization.

SERVES NOTICE
ON THE COUNCIL

some plan that would make it possible for them to check up on the police.

"If you can't get them to work, we can fire them," the mayor declared, and continuing further, he stated that he had obtained enough evidence that would warrant several changes.

One councilman stated that complaints had reached him of drunks causing much disturbance in the business district, and that several fights have taken place in front of the police, who watched them fight.

Another councilman stated that there was one policeman who had been on duty. In the list of suggestions made by the mayor, he pointed out the necessity of the police having regular patrol beats, especially in the residence section, with some means of checking up to find out what they were doing.

The city is lacking in not having a metropolitan police force, which would give the officers a desk sergeant, to keep check on them, and direct them in following out orders from the mayor and chief. The order of the mayor is to the effect that the councilmen must solve these questions, and give the city the police protection that it deserves, similar to the fire protection, which is highly satisfactory.

The council some months ago tabled an ordinance regulating and licensing busses within the city, and the ordinance will be revived and placed on first reading at the next session.

The councilmen had previously decided to let the matter go by, but according to their discussions last night it seems that the busses have again come into the limelight on account of recklessness and the attitude displayed by the drivers in not observing ordinances and requests by the administration.

street from Water, north to Seventh street, will be received on December 18, and in this connection bids also will be received for the pavement of Water street, from Main to Morgan.

The last improvement was approved and passed five years ago, under the administration of the late Mayor A. B. Irvin, but no bids were ever received for the work; and the council believes that at this time the project can be put through by the same contractor for the Morgan street job, as the two projects link each other.

The police will be ordered to enforce the curfew ordinance, compelling school children to be off the streets by eight o'clock, and the police also will be asked to question boys under the full age of 21 years, concerning the purchase of cigarettes and tobacco. The mayor is anxious to enforce the state law on this subject, and dealers are warned to be on their guard, or else arrests will be made.

The sewer committee was asked to start the ball to rolling again in the Hodge's branch petition, which has met with rough sailing for two years and which has failed to get by in the circuit court on account of technicalities in legal advertising.

A sample of the Memorial Park bond issue was read and the wording approved, and the contract for the printing of the issue will go forward at once.

The city treasurer reported that the fall installment on taxes had been paid to the city by Phil Wilk, county auditor, and on account of the surplus of money, a note for $10,000 at

Stars That Shine

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)
New York, Nov. 21—Willie Hoppe, world's billiard champion off and on for seventeen years, is to defend his title in a play off match next month in Chicago against young Welker Cochran.

Hoppe probably will win because he is better fitted temperamentally to stand the nerve strain resulting from a month's intermission in the play.

Cochran is flighty of nerves, like many youngsters. His youthful susceptibility to mental hazards probably caused him to miff the chance to win the recent championship tournament instead of finishing in a tie.

Cochran defeated Hoppe in one of the early matches of the tournament. The match was not finished until midnight and the youngster said he was so excited that he was unable to sleep that night. He had to play at noon the next day and was defeated by Hagenlaecher, the German.

Recently Cochran opened a billiard parlor in Hollywood and he was so busy getting his business underway that he had no time to train or practice for the championship.

Between now and Dec. 16, when the play-off starts in Chicago with the champion, he probably will spend all his time in practice and thinking about Hoppe.

Which will do him no good.

While football is more or less of a timely subject, here's one for the book before it is closed.

King College, Bristol, Tenn.; enrollment 92; football coach, A. C. Adams, Maryland '10; squad 42; eligibility, strict.

Record: In 1922 won seven games and scored 498 without being scored upon.

In six games of this season, Bristol scored 432 points to six. Beat Bluefield 68-0; Tennessee Poly, 75-0; Elon 55-6; Lenoir, 86-0; East Tennessee Normal, 108-0; Milligan 40-0.

No big teams on the list, but it is claimed big teams won't take them.

Elton Sharpe, a 160-pound back, triple threat, fine kicker and great runner, is the big punch of the team and some judges who have seen him play say that he is one of the finest backs in the country.

Anotehr light that has never been able to shine from rather secluded surroundings is Stockton of the Gonzaga team.

Eastern critics who saw the West Virginia-Gonzaga game last year said that Stockton was one of the finest football players they had ever seen.

Surroundings have everything to do with the fame that can be won by a football player.

Sideline Glimpses

Chicago—Coach Stagg's varsity made the going hard for the Irish who used Wisconsin plays in a long scrimmage. The Maroons are in top conditions for Saturday's game.

Madison, Wis.—The Badgers are getting intensive drill on the forward pass attack, which critics have said is their chief weakness. Williams, Taft and Harris scored by gains during scrimmage but Coach Ryan is apparently convinced he must mix up the plunges with passing.

Ann Arbor, Mich.—Passing, running and kicking featured the activities of the Wolverines as Coach Yost whipped his squad in shape to meet the Gophers Saturday.

Lafayette, Ind.—Purdue's backfield will be unchanged when it meets Indiana Saturday. Signal drills, limbering up exercises and new plays constituted yesterday's drills behind closed gates.

Bloomington, Ind.—Strong defense on forward pass plays featured Indiana practice today as Coach Ingram prepared his squad to meet Purdue Saturday.

South Bend, Ind.—Coach Rockne put his men through scrimmage practice preparatory to meeting Carnegie Tech Saturday. Tech is credited with one of the strongest defenses the Irish will meet.

Mrs. Cora Shelton of Greencastle, division president of Indiana, gave the ladies an interesting talk on the Riley Memorial Fund. Mrs. William Ball of Indianapolis, National aide, was also present for the inspection. At the close of the inspection work dainty refreshments were served and an informal social hour enjoyed with the state and national officers.

Anderson Township Woman Expires At Robert Long Hospital

Mrs. Emma Ray, age 42 years, wife of Marshall Ray, living just east of Milroy, died this morning at two o'clock at the Robert L. Long Hospital in Indianapolis, where she had been taking treatment for the past seven weeks. The remains were brought to the family home this afternoon, where services will be conducted, probably Friday. Besides the husband, she is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan, of near Milroy; and several brothers and sisters. The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Tom Sims, who finds a queer and humorist twist in much of the day's news, writes a column daily on the editorial page of the Daily Republican. If you miss a single paragraph, you miss a good laugh.

Both Good

Both straightline and bloused frocks are popular for the coming season and two simple models are shown here as examples. The straightline dress is the best example of the tubelike silhouette. The other dress made with an underskirt to which the skirt is attached, blouses evenly and gracefully all around.

MORE THAN 130 ARE KILLED

Terrific Fighting Reported in Rhineland From Cologne

Berlin, Nov. 21—Terrific fighting in the Rhineland in which more than 130 separatists were killed in the last week was reported in delayed dispatches today from Cologne.

Seventy were reported killed in one battle between separatists and citizens loyal to the German Reich near Aegidienberg. Serious fighting was also reported in the Sieben Gebirg district.

The Psychology of a Lie.
Pip's Analysis in "Great Expectations": "It was much upon my mind that I ought to tell Joe the whole truth. Yet I did not, and for the reason that I mistrusted that if I did, he would think me worse than I was. The fear of losing Joe's confidence, and of thenceforth sitting in the chimney corner at night staring drearily at my forever lost companion and friend, tied up my tongue. . . . In a word, I was too cowardly to do what I knew to be right, as I had been too cowardly to avoid doing what I knew to be wrong."

JOINT-EASE

For Stiff, Swollen Joints

Says: "When Joint-Ease Gets in—Joint Agony Gets Out."

It was a high-class pharmacist who saw prescription after prescription fail to help hundreds of his customers to get rid of rheumatic swellings and stiff inflamed joints.

And it was this same man who asserted that a remedy could and would be compounded that would make creaky, swollen, tormented joints work with just as much smoothness as they ever did.

Now this prescription, rightly named Joint-Ease, after being tested successfully on many obstinate cases, is offered through progressive pharmacists to the millions of people who suffer from ailing joints that need limbering up.

Swollen, twingy, inflamed, stiff, paintormented joints are usually caused by rheumatism, but whatever the cause Joint-Ease soaks right in, through skin and flesh and gets right to and corrects the trouble at its source.

Remember Joint-Ease is for ailments of the joints, whether in ankle, knee, hip, elbow, shoulder, spine or finger, and when you rub it on, you may expect speedy and gratifying results.

It is now on sale at druggists everywhere for 60 cents a tube.

Conquering Time

THE WORTH of a man is measured by his usefulness.

When many men are grouped to perform a common task for the common good they become an institution.

The same measuring rod applies to the institution as to the individual.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is an institution—a big institution.

It is big in size because it renders a big service.

Perhaps there is no phase of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) service which is more significant or more far-reaching in its benefits to man than the means it furnishes for the conservation of time.

It enables men to do the work of the world easier and in fewer hours.

It speeds up every phase of industry.

The manufacturer can produce more merchandise because Standard Oil products enable him to run his machinery at higher speed.

The farmer can cultivate more land and raise greater crops because Standard Oil products enable him to use power-driven farm machinery.

The doctor can see more patients because Standard Oil products have enabled him to substitute the automobile for the horse.

The salesman can display his wares to twice as many buyers by utilizing Standard Oil products and the automobile.

Standard Oil Company (Indiana) service lengthens man's three score and ten by increasing his capacity for accomplishment.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is proud of the part it has taken in furnishing the means for men to annihilate time and distance through controlled and directed effort.

It is proud of the fact that it has been able to benefit so many industries by taking so many products, varied and useful, from the single base—crude petroleum.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is proud of the leadership it has earned in the petroleum industry.

It is proud of its organization of 27,000 men and women through whose loyal, earnest efforts it is able to render such a superior service as to have earned the respect and confidence of the thirty million people of the Middle West.

"If Winter Comes." The Castle

The success of nearly every dramatic masterpiece is calculated by the performance of the star, the character around which the entire story revolves, the one to whom all things happen. Yet, if it were not for the capable support of a cast made up of "bits" many of the greatest dramas known to the art would not occupy their reverent position. In the screen version of "If Winter Comes," produced by William Fox, Percy Marmont plays that central character—Mark Sabre—and play it in a manner that will command the respect of every critic worthy of the title. But his sterling performance should not detract from the noteworthy work of lesser members of the cast. One of these is Leslie King, as "Humpo" the lawyer, who tries to fasten the crime of murder upon Sabre.

King, as the crafty, surly hunchback, trying by every means to circumvent the evidence, reminds one of nothing so much as a leopard, toying around his prey, tearing his heart out bit by bit. His cunning insinuations, his rapier-like thrusts, his smirking expression of pleasure at a point ill-gained, mould out a character that is one of the fine accomplishments of the motion picture "If Winter Comes," which will be shown at the Castle Theatre today and Thursday.

Firm, Plump Flesh!

MANY are the eyes that are turned to gaze with keen admiration on the well developed, healthy girl no matter where she may be seen, the rapidly moving thoroughfare or gliding gracefully over the dance floor.

All eyes turn because we all appreciate the girl with the figure so firm and plump—the girl with radiantly red cheeks, cheeks that carry a touch of roses from nature's own garden—the girl with the sparkling eyes, keen and sharp—the girl with buoyancy and the swing of youth.

Not necessarily an out-of-doors girl. Just a girl with ever increasing blood cells. Just a girl filled with the vim and vigor of youth. S. S. S., since 1826, has stood for increased blood cells. S. S. S. means restored strength—rekindled vitality—added energy. Take S. S. S. and watch the bloom of youth return to your cheeks. Watch that flabby, ill nourished flesh fade away before flesh that is firm and plump. Red blood cells will do it and S. S. S. will build them. It contains only pure vegetable ingredients. S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores. The large size bottle is more economical.

the type of feature comedies that Harold Lloyd makes, they are "rarer than rare."

The happy thought that led to the making of the spectacular comedian's latest and longest feature, "Safety Last," a seven-reel Pathe comedy, came like a flash out of a sky.

One day, about a year ago, Harold Lloyd and his producer, Hal Roach, were talking on a downtown street in Los Angeles. It so happened that at the Roslyn Hotel that day, "Bill Strother known the world over as the 'human-fly', was pitting his skill against intricacies of the Roslyn's granite walls.

Immediately the idea hit Harold that it might be a good plan to make a thrill picture, and to fill it with just such daring and hilarious situations as he made in "Never Weaken" and "High and Dizzy," outstanding successes in Lloyd's early achievements.

The idea was not long in crystallization stage, for it was put into concrete form by Hal Roach, Sam Taylor, Tim Whalen and Harley M. Walker—the last three on the Lloyd scenario staff—and the filming began after the completion of "Dr. Jack." Strother, himself, was engaged to play the part of Lloyd's pal, and to, incidentally, climb one building for the benefit of the camera.

"Safety Last" will be seen for the last time tonight at the Princess Theatre, and it is declared to be filled to the brim with thrills. The funny situations are there in abundance, and with Mildred Davis, Harold also demonstrates that he can take his place with the foremost Romances of the screen.

"When The Desert Calls."

One of the strangest cases of mistaken identity, from which most disastrous consequences arise, will be seen in "When The Desert Calls," a Pyramid Picture which comes to the Mystic theatre today. It is a Ray C. Smallwood production featuring Frazier, J. Barney Sherry, Huntley Gordon and Sheldon Lewis in the cast.

The author is Donald McGibeny, and his story is a gripping one. It concerns a young wife and her husband, Americans, who live near the Sahara where he is cashier in a bank. A stranger appears in the city—a derelict, a drunkard who strikingly resembles the cashier. At the same time comes an old enemy, a man whose pursuit of the wife has not ended with her marriage.

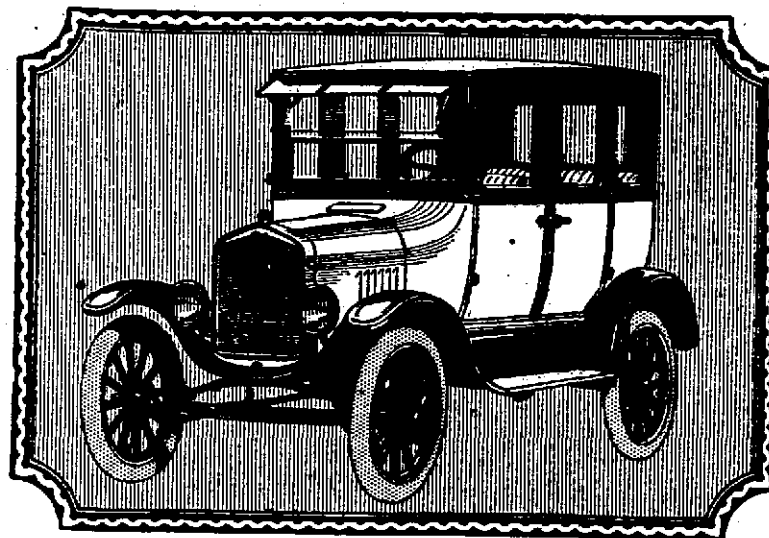

Desiring to ruin the husband, that the wife may be helpless, the enemy forces the derelict to participate in a diabolical scheme to bring this about. Because of the likeness between the two men, he forges a check and compels the derelict to present it at the bank where he is, of course, mistaken for the cashier. Nor does the confusion of identities end there. The forger is later detected, the innocent man is disgraced, and finally, when the derelict realizes the extent of his wrongdoing, he kills himself.

From this point the story gallops toward a sensational finish.

Ford Four-Door Sedan

$685 b.b. fully equipped.

Inside and out, the new Ford Four-door Sedan shows improvements of far more than usual importance.

It is lower and sturdier in appearance. New cowl, hood, radiator and apron add size and finish to the front. Sun visor, and wide, well-finished aluminum doors with bar handles perfect the design of the body.

The lasting lustre of the exterior finish is equalled in richness by the soft brown shades of the silk window curtains and the deep broadcloth upholstery.

Dome light, door locks, window regulators and handles, all finished in nickel, complete a refinement you would expect only at a far higher price.

Convenience, utility and economy have established Ford supremacy. The Four-Door Sedan adds to these factors greater Ford prestige.

Happier, Healthier Women

by thousands are known to exist in this country because they have been relieved from pain and suffering by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Science in surgery and electricity have advanced greatly during the past fifty years, but treatment of disease by old-fashioned root and herb medicines has never been improved upon. The leader of them all is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which after fifty years of success is today recognized as the standard remedy for female ills and sold everywhere for that purpose. Replies to a questionnaire recently sent out to 50,000 women by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. of Lynn, Mass., proved that it benefits 98 out of every 100 women who try it. Isn't this a marvelous record for any medicine to hold?
